Dengue is an ongoing public health concern in the Philippines. The Philippines' Department of Health-Epidemiology Bureau has reported 52,177 cases (41% increase) in cases of Dengue fever in the country from January 1, 2016 to June 11, 2016 compared to 36,772 cases during the same period in 2015. Dengue related deaths have also increased in the same period; from 129 deaths in 2015 to 207 in 2016. Most of the cases were from the 5 to 14 years age group. The worst affected regions include Calabarzon (&071 cases), Central Visayas (5,510 cases), Central Luzon (5,542) Northern Mindanao (5,044) and SOCSARGEN (4,075). The Bureau further added that Dengue has become a year-round threat in the Philippines, with a peak in cases from July to November each year, one to two months after the start of rainy season.

With this alarming situation and in the commitment of the Department of Education to address the dengue virus and to promote and provide a safer and healthier learning environment for Filipino learners, it is enjoined that the "Brigada sa Kalinisan and Dengue Prevention Campaign" (Unnumbered DepEd Memorandum dated October 26, 2015) shall be implemented in all schools. This is to promote dengue preventive and control measures throughout our schools.

Engagement of stakeholders (parents, barangay leasers, etc. in the said activity is highly encouraged.
