Attention: Nancy Dequito, RN
Supervising Nurse

Dear Sir Oplenario:

Greetings!

Schistosomiasis remains a public health threat in the Philippines. The disease continues to affect approximately a total population of 12 million people at risk of the disease and 2.5 million individuals directly exposed to the disease. It is one of the neglected tropical diseases together with Leprosy, Malaria, Soil Transmitted Helminthiasis, Filariasis and Dengue.

The National Objectives for Health (NOH) 2011-2016 "calls for the elimination of Schistosomiasis as a public health problem in all endemic areas". Administrative Order 2009-0013 also declares the month of July every year as the Mass Treatment and Awareness Month for Schistosomiasis in established endemic areas in the Philippines.

In preparation with the said activity, the DOH Regional Office 10 will conduct an Orientation on Schistosomiasis Control and Elimination Program and Neglected Tropical Diseases which focuses on – Schistosomiasis Preventive Chemotherapy on April 15, 2015 in Malaybalay City (Specific Venue will be known later).

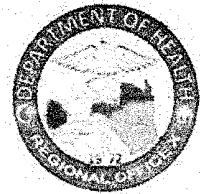

In line with this, being our partner in the implementation of health programs, may we invite the following personnel for the said event namely, Ms. Nancy Dequito - Supervising Nurse, 8 nurses, School Heads and School Clinic Teachers of both elementary and secondary public and private schools of the following barangays:
