MESSAGE

Today, thousands upon thousands of graduates in all year levels march and receive certificates as indication of achieving another milestone in education. To you who are among them all, it is of distinct honor and privilege that I convey my warm congratulations for persevering in all the joyful and dull moments to complete the basic education in the secondary level. Same greetings I have for everyone who has contributed to the success our graduates of today have achieved.

The graduation theme “Saktong Buhay: Sa De-Kalidad na Edukasyon Pinanday” speaks about how education contributes to shaping the future of every individual. The strong pillar is made through the efforts of the parents, the teachers, the community, the stakeholders and the school in general. It is a prophetic thing to talk about having learners who can compete globally but this is one direction we are leading to. The reason why innovations, researches and interventions have been encouraged in every school so that the gaps found along the way in the delivery of instruction will be properly addressed.

For one to be successful, there is a need to fine tune all plans, coupled with a strong faith in God. Continue the good deeds and learn from experiences in the pursuit of education. Be determined, positive and wise in all the career choices. The zeal and aspirations are best weapons in order to reach your dreams.

MESSAGE

Today, thousands upon thousands of graduates in all year levels march and receive certificates as indication of achieving another milestone in education. To you who are among them all, it is of distinct honor and privilege that I convey my warm congratulations for persevering in all the joyful and dull moments to complete the basic elementary education. Same greetings I have for everyone who has contributed to the success our graduates of today have achieved.

The graduation theme “Saktong Buhay: Sa De-Kalidad na Edukasyon Pinanday” speaks about how education contributes to shaping the future of every individual. The strong pillar is made through the efforts of the parents, the teachers, the community, the stakeholders and the school in general. It is a prophetic thing to talk about having learners who can compete globally but this is one direction we are leading to. Innovations, researches and interventions have been encouraged in every school so that the gaps found along the way in the delivery of instruction will be properly addressed.

In June 2015, I hope to see you in any school of your choice. Continue the good deeds and learn from your experiences in the pursuit of education. Be determined, positive and wise in all your choices. The zeal and aspirations are best weapons in order to succeed.

Good luck!
