Greetings!

We are the U.P. Pre-Medical Society, a duly recognized, university-wide, socio-academic organization in the University of the Philippines, Diliman. Awarded by the Bank of the Philippine Islands as one of the Most Outstanding Volunteer Organizations in the Philippines last 2011, the Society consists of young, hardworking, and dedicated individuals from different degree programs, united by the common passion of aiding and assisting fellow Filipinos. Since 1956, the Society has spearheaded community-oriented projects such as medical-dental-circumcision missions, outreach programs, blood drives, and donation drives. With a unique application process and holistic pre-medical training, the Society seeks to extend this sense of community to aspiring medical students and beyond.

For our organization's 65th anniversary, the U.P. Pre-Medical Society aims to launch Liwayway: MedCon 2021, a two-day medical convention with the goal of enjoining the youth, specifically senior high school and undergraduate students, in the pursuit of medicine. This event will be held on April 17, 2021 and April 24, 2021 from 2:00-5:00PM via Zoom and Facebook Live. It will feature speakers from varied yet equally relevant medical fields, namely renowned medical students and licensed general practitioners or specialized physicians, as they share their advice, insights, and real-life experiences on their respective medical journeys.

In line with this, we would like to request your institution to formally endorse such an event to different Senior High School Departments under your Division, to be disseminated to SHS Students. We believe that given the public health situation that we have now, it is very important that aspiring medical professionals of the country are guided and have knowledge on the necessary steps to take in their future career.

Should you agree to endorse it, here is the registration link for the event: tinyurl.com/MedCon2021.

If you have questions and other concerns, please do not hesitate to contact us through this email or through my mobile number below. Thank you and hoping for your favorable response.

Sincerely,
